Jones County U S O Quota Almost Made

Tate May, chairman of Jones County USO campaign to raise $2,337.80, reports that the goal is almost reached.

Vacation Bible School Through Next Week

Attendance has been splendid in our annual Bible School thus far. An increase from 104 on Monday to 116 on Wednesday is encouraging. Majoring on character building and Bible study, we hope to build into the lives of those attending attitudes and qualities which shall live on throughout eternity. Handwork, recreation, fellowship—all of this is to be found in the school. But, above all, Christ is being upheld as the hope of the world and the Savior of all who come unto Him.

Meeting each morning at 9:00 A. M. except Saturdays and Sundays. The school will continue through June 19. Commencement exercises will be held on Sunday night, June 21st.

How people can neglect the church and be careless and indifferent in their attitude toward Christ in these crucial times is a mystery. We cannot be careless toward Christ and his church and expect Him to continue to bless us and to save us from the enemies that threaten the church and our liberty at this critical time. It isn't fair to always be on the receiving end and never give anything in return to Him who gave his life for us. Go To Church Sunday!

Visitors are welcome in all our services.

The Vacation Bible School at the Methodist church has a fair attendance. Wonderful work is being done among the primary, junior and intermediate children. The school will continue through next Wednesday and all the children in these age groups are urged to attend. The school is under the direction of Mrs. Ray Jones. Mrs. Otis Hopper has charge of the primary children; Mrs. Cotton of the juniors; and Mrs. John D. Ferguson the intermediates. There are seven assistant workers in the three departments doing splendid work.

Sunday Is Flag Day By Proclamation

On January 1, 1942, twenty-six Governments signed the Declaration of the United Nations. They pledged support to the principles of the Atlantic Charter of International Freedom. They pledged their full resources—military and economic—against those Axis nations with which they were at war. They pledged never to sign a separate armistice or peace with the enemy.

Each year, June 14, is observed as Flag Day as a symbol of our allegiance to the ideals of our country. But, in this year of all-out war against tyranny, our allegiance is entwined with loyalty to all who battle alongside us, wherever they may be. As we have united in the past to build a mighty America out of pioneers who came here from many lands, so today we join with United Nations on every continent to fight for the age-old human ideal of freedom. We may differ with many of our allies in language, or religion, or form of government, but we are united on a basic principle now challenged by Axis aggressors. It is the principle that human beings have a right to be free, that they have a right to decide for themselves what kind of government they wish, that they have the inalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

To pay tribute to the unconquerable determination of the twenty-six United Nations—to give the citizens of this community an opportunity to express their conviction that the spirit of freedom will never die, and that our cause will be victorious—to express our confidence in the sincerity, the gallantry and the mutual respect of the United Nations whether they are now on the battle-lines, whether their lands are temporarily under the heels of Axis tyranny, or whether they serve by supplying the vital materials of war.

As Mayor of Hamlin, I hereby proclaim Sunday, June 14, 1942, Flag Day and I ask all citizens to co-operate with the Flag Day Committee in carrying out a fitting observance of this day. I ask the people of Hamlin to display the flag of the United States as well as the flags of other United Nations which may be in their possession. I ask for full participation in all ceremonies which may be held in this community so that the world will know that Americans stand shoulder to shoulder with our allies in the undying determination to fight until victory is ours.

Signed, Joe L. Culbertson,
Mayor of Hamlin

Hamlin Lions Club Heard Judge Miller

Tuesday the guest speaker at the Lions Club was Attorney-Publisher Otis Miller of Anson. He made a very inspiring address on "The Peace to Follow the Present Conflict". Other visitors from Anson were Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Jones. Lieutenant Robert Johnson of Hamlin was also a guest of the club.

The Lions Club committee is meeting with more success than was at first expected in getting pictures for display in the Red Cross windows of boys in the service from Hamlin and surrounding communities. Already a large number have been brought in and many others will be received in due time. Later proper shelving will be erected and all the pictures will bear plain explanatory cards for each soldier boy. Even now one can begin to realize the large number of community men in the service, and to look at the window is enough to cause one to grit his teeth and make new resolutions to get in somewhere and do something to help bring those choice fellows back to Hamlin as victors.

YOUR CAR How to Get the MOST out of It

KEEP 'EM ROLLING

Did you get 10, 20 or 40 thousand miles off your last set of tires? If you want to graduate into the 40 thousand class with those on your present car, here are some things to watch:

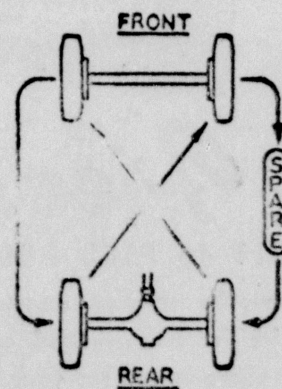

Have your wheels balanced, and check them for alignment at least twice a year. Improper alignment causes the tires to drag instead of roll. Improper balance scrapes off the tread in waves. Watch your brake adjustment too, because uneven brakes cause wear in one spot.

Criss cross your tires every four to five thousand miles. This evens tread wear and keeps your spare in use. Five tires used 16,000 miles each is better than four tires used 20,000 miles plus one unused spare. Rubber degenerates rapidly without exercise.

Watch for tread cuts and have them repaired immediately. If you have to store tires, keep them in a dark cool room out of air currents.

Tires that have been retreaded or recapped will give many more miles of service, but don't drive at excessive speeds with them.

Note: This is the sixth in a series of articles based on the book, Automobile User's Guide, published by the Customer Research staff of General Motors. Next article: Lubrication.

A LITTLE BIT ABOUT

This

AND A LITTLE BIT OF

THAT

Somebody Is Going To Get Licked—

You can figure out several odd things about countries of the world if you will begin to recall a little history.

You know it is said that Japan has never lost a war?

You know that the United States has never been licked?

Did you know that Great Britain has passed a 1000 years and has won every war she has engaged in, regardless of how many were after her? Did you ever stop to think of that?

Somebody will challenge a part of

Just name who whipped Great Britain to her knees.

Nobody can whip Great Britain, but somebody might get the best of her in "spots" and cause her to say, let's quit. Not many times has that ever happened. She did yield to the American colonies, but in that case it was just a grown-up child wanting to get its manhood rights.

Now there may be some other countries in the world that have never been humiliated to the dust by an opponent, if so it is not a big nation.

Somebody is going to get licked, and it is not going to be the United States, nor Great Britain.

The big machine has started now, and when it stops there will be a new story.

A new slogan is up . . . "There is no limits to Nimitz" . . . "Let's keep 'em fleeing" . . . "Fish eye reports are reliable" . . . "Our boys can dish it out" . . . on land and sea. Somebody is going to get licked and it "ain't us".

Japan is going to shoot her last wad, and squealing to quit will not help her. The time has come to reduce the "unwhipped" nations to just two.

—T & T—

One Murderer Gone—

It may not sound very "human" to speak in a tone of happiness when any man has suffered death from wounds. But it is hard for people who love justice to refrain from being quite satisfied to learn of the death of one arch murderer, one Reinhard Heydrich, the Gestapo hangman who got what the rest of the murderers will receive some day. Old Reinhard Heydrich has the reputation of killing (no telling how many innocent people) and finally got his in the Czech city of Prague. Already more than 200 innocent Czechs have died as a punishment for the assassin's bullets. O yes, the German-controlled Prague radio ordered all Czechs to line up on the streets to honor this "eminent Nazi saint". They did. But high heaven must have heard their hot breathing of satisfaction and prayers that such demons may continue to fall as Heydrich did—the murderer.

—T & T—

Too Much Uncertainty

American people are not generally rebellious about doing what is asked of them. But American people are restless under uncertainties.

Now for example, from what this paper can gather from reading in various exchanges, government releases, and listening to experiences of people as they talk, one must reach the conclusion that there is not much regularity in SUGAR allotments for canning purposes. Yes, there is room for complaints, by people who know that in some counties folks get two or three times what is allowed in Hamlin. Maybe it is our anxiousness to not "Chisel" or it is our ignorance as to what to ask for or demand. Few persons would deliberately ask for more than they should have.

Now comes another complaint: In many communities the people have scrapped and dug up old materials and still have it piled up. Who is to blame for this? Everybody wants to help, but few have any direct authority to act.

Again, when people begin to hear rumblings of "rationing" this or that they (some anyway) are tempted and do rush down and get "theirs" while they can. This situation is punk. No such stuff should be let out over the radio or press till the very day it is to be done. It is just like telling the thief, "Cap, hurry up and get what you want. We'll be right there at 3:17 to catch you."

Most Americans feel that we are just getting started to fix up the Japs and the Germans with the Its thrown in. None of us want a single block set up or allowed to tamper the progress. It is poor psychology to talk of scarcity and rationing till curtailment machinery is ready. Rushes for goods, not needed are hurtful to business.

How does one really know there is to be a shortage of razor blades, unless some blabber sets up a howl that they might become scant? Then the "chiseler" slips down and hooks himself enough keen blades to last till judgment day. Poor business, Mr. Henderson, poor tactics, Mr. whoever-is-to-blame.

—T & T—

Now About Gasoline—

Common sense should prevail in the gasoline situation. One of two things, if gas is to be very much restricted, about as well call in or off all the tires on private cars. If tires are needed for war use, they should be called for; if they are to remain on private cars, they will be valueless by lack of "exercise" in case gasoline is badly restricted. In most cases, now, automobiles are used only "about town", which in itself is taking less gasoline. It would appear the most sensible thing would be to let every part of the country that can get plenty of gasoline keep buying and running automobiles till the tires are flat and then if a governmental set-up for receiving and shipping scrap rubber can be arranged the ultimate end would be to salvage millions of tons of rubber for war use. People will get along without cars when they have to and not think of complaining if it will help bring the war to a successful close. In every shipping community somebody will act for the government free to get rubber to the point where it is needed, but to pick up scrap and handle it thru several doubtful hands does not appeal to a thinking person.

—T & T—

Synthetic Rubber

The War Production Board is making every effort to expand the production of synthetic rubber, and is investigating every possible new process, but all the information we have shows that every pound of synthetic rubber which this country will be producing at forced draught between now and the end of 1943 must be reserved for direct or indirect military purposes. None can be made available for the manufacture of tires for non-essential civilian purposes.

The War Production Board has set a goal of 800,000 tons as the production rate to be reached by the end of 1943. Of this, production of Buna S, a Butadiene type synthetic is to reach a rate of 700,000 tons by the end of 1943. The balance is made up of Butyl and Neoprene. But reaching a rate of 700,000 tons, of course, is a much simpler thing than actually producing that much rubber in a year.

The present program calls for production of over 300,000 tons during the calendar year of 1943. In addition the Rubber Co-ordinator's office is studying the possibility of increasing the currently planned production of synthetic rubbers other than the Buna S. But many difficulties remain to be solved.

—T & T—

What Has Happened—

Maybe most of us do not realize what has happened to the world's crude rubber production. Here is what reliable sources reveal:

	Tons
Malaya	540,000
Netherlands Indies	536,000
French Indo China	64,000
Thailand	44,000
Sarawak	35,000
North Borneo	17,500
Philippines	2,267
Burma	9,600

(Based on 1940 Production)
ALL of the above now in Jap hands.

This leaves the following available to the United Nations:

	Tons
Ceylon	89,000
India	11,500
Liberia	7,250
Other African	7,200
South America	17,600
Mexican Guayule	4,106

The amounts from Ceylon and India are uncertain, and that's the story of what has happened to rubber. Blame the Japs. And this is proof that the Japs must be "licked" before we get enough rubber.

ARRANGE ROOMS FOR NEW BEAUTY

Rearranging Furniture Can Create Stylish Interiors

Room arrangements are pretty much a matter of symmetry. There are certain laws of balance which are essential in arranging furnishings in a room to provide that interesting simplicity which is immediately noticeable and admired. Pairs of things make pleasing room arrangements—a pair of chairs, a pair of lamps, a pair of end tables, a pair of throw rugs, a pair of nicknacks.

Arranging furniture is very much like painting a picture. All you have to start with is a bare room and furnishings. What you do with them is what counts.

Stand just outside of the room studying it carefully. Note its size, its shape and particularly its peculiarities as to size, shape and location of windows, doors, the fire place, recesses in walls, kind of floors, woodwork, etc.

Build a composition around interesting things. Make the various individual arrangements in the room balance with the arrangement as a whole.

If all of the heavy pieces are at one side or at one end of the room, the balance is destroyed. Remember, windows are to look out of, particularly if there is a pleasing view promised. Make your room arrangements so a view from your windows is easily possible.

Take into consideration the number of people who are going to use a room and what they will probably be doing when they are in the room.

Change your rooms from time to time. Various pieces of furniture show up better in different room arrangements.

After many days of painstaking effort, ceiling prices are now in effect in all Hamlin stores. The ceiling price is interpreted by the Office of Price Administration as being the highest price charged for any item for the month of March, 1942. All retailers are required to post a tag indicating that the prices marked are ceiling prices. This regulation is for the protection of the buying public as a check on the rising cost of living. The merchants have done their best to comply with the regulations and sincerely ask the co-operation of their friends and customers, for the next several weeks, so that misunderstandings can be eliminated.

NOTICE

Stiff Buying Regulations Set

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—Stiff regulations controlling the installment purchases of nearly every article in common use in the American home were promulgated tonight by the Federal Reserve Board which, in addition, decreed that ordinary charge accounts involving such articles must be paid up relatively quick.

The charge account rules, first ever issued governing this type of buying, provided that an article must be paid for by the 10th day of the second month following the purchase.

Effective at midnight tonight, the regulations were assued in compliance with President Roosevelt's recent request that people pay off their bills and stay out of debt as much as possible. Hitherto, the purchase on credit of a score of articles had been regulated, but tonight's rules lengthened the list to 46 classifications, and stiffened the requirements.

The new list of restricted articles included all civilian clothing, kitchen articles and dishes, linens, jewelry, auto accessories, all electrical appliances, luggage, umbrellas, sports equipment, used furniture and yard goods, in addition to the score of previously limited items such as furniture, radios, vacuum cleaners, bicycles and clocks.

The rules apply only to the 46 listed types of articles and no others. They provide:

1. Cash purchases—no restrictions.
2. Charge accounts—must be paid by the 10th day of the second month following purchase, but no down payment required. For instance, a listed article bought any day up to the end of this month must be paid for by July 10. That date also is the deadline for charged articles which were bought before today.

New Federal Restrictions Make Mandatory Payment of Bills

New Federal Restrictions that apply to sale of merchandise on regular 30-day accounts.

This is a wartime measure in which all of us will have to comply. If you have a past-due account — see your merchant NOW and make definite arrangements for liquidating the account so that the merchants will not be forced to "cut you off". The Federal restrictions leave them no other alternative.

Not only is the government insisting that accounts be paid promptly but it is setting up definite limitations on open credit accounts as well as installment accounts and if they are not paid within the time prescribed that person can no longer obtain credit!

See Your Merchant Now If You Have Past-Due Accounts!

Make Your Plans Now To Pay All Your Bills Promptly When Due

Time Payments

Most items bought on a time payment basis, call for a down payment of one-third and run for a period of twelve months with no payment less than $1.25 a week or $5.00 a month. Household furniture and pianos may be bought with a 20 per cent down payment. Other terms the same. Farm equipment terms and automobiles may run fifteen months.

The Merchants of Hamlin Have Wholeheartedly Co-operated In This Effort To Keep Down The Cost of Living

(The Following Released by Regional OPA Administrator)

DALLAS, Texas, May 7—Reminding Americans that the over-all ceiling on prices is their protection against the rising cost of living, OPA Region Administrator Max L. McCullough today asked patience and tolerance by the buying public with the price control program.

"Co-operation is the watchword," Mr. McCullough said. "The housewife and the shopper can help by learning how price ceilings will operate while a program so vast is getting underway.

"The regulations impose many novel and difficult burdens on retailers and their suppliers. Shoppers should realize that by May 18 every retailer must re-price his merchandise in keeping with the price regulations and after May 18 he cannot make sales above the ceiling. This is a tremendous task, especially for small merchants whose records may be incomplete."

Pointing out that the consumer has no such task, Mr. McCullough said the buying public has an obvious duty to become familiar with the basic provisions of the price regulation.

"During the first few weeks after May 18 it is only to be expected that there will be many perplexing questions and there will be instances of disagreement between customer and seller over maximum prices. These are inevitable even when the retailer has fixed his ceiling prices in strict keeping with the rules set down.

Before July 1, educate yourself and your neighbor on the price regulations and how they operate.

Don't try to be a "price-policeman". Leave the policing job to the Office of Price Administration. From the very start, prices will be under the closest surveillance of OPA, which will use the trained technicians of the Bureau of Labor Statistics to check price trends.

Slacks Ensemble With Skirt Is Ideal for Defense Work

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

TIME was when slacks were regarded as an amusing and passing whim of fashion, especially by women who prided themselves on being conservative in dress. Nevertheless, slacks persisted in the mode, with the result that today fashion-wise leaders declare that slacks are headed for their greatest success season. Of course there's a reason. And that reason is that they are undeniably practical.

Women will need slacks for the busy life they must perforce lead in the days to come. You will be needing them for doing your bit in civilian defense, for work on the farm, for bicycling, for hours of recreation and rest. Yes, there's no doubt about it. Slacks have become a positive "must have."

In many jobs where women are taking the place of men, in field or factory, the call grows more urgent each day for clothing which hasn't any loose gewgaws or extra fullness to catch in machinery. Wide slacks are no more practical than skirts. Utility slacks must be narrow at the bottom or caught in at the ankles after the manner of the workaday outfit pictured to the left in the above illustration. This surf blue denim coverall is one of the types favored for farm or defense factory work. Its surplice closing, tie-belt that eliminates the use of any sort of metal fastening, huge pockets and buttons for holding tools in at the ankle are required utilitarian features. A bright peasant square tied about the head adds a pleasingly feminine touch.

There is a time for work and a time for play. When work is done, slip into immaculate white slacks like those shown in the center of the above picture. Slacks are simply constructed and easy to make as these give emphasis to the growing sentiment among women that it is wise to sew and to save these days. This one-piece slacks suit is cut from a very simple pattern, and it is made of serg-a-hed, a wonder fabric of all-rayon weave that looks exactly like an expensive French serge. It washes and irons beautifully and can be had in white or a range of exquisite colors.

Search the fashion centers over, and you won't find a more complete many-purpose slacks outfit than the nicely tailored four-piece suit shown to the right in the above illustration. This foursome consists of slacks, coat, skirt and sleeveless jacket fashioned of black and white check rayon weave. Checks, by the way, are the rage this season for jackets and slacks suits. You'll be seeing and hearing about checked fabrics wherever you go. This stunning slacks ensemble is purposefully designed to take care of versatile costume needs for the woman who leads a busy life. You can mix and match the various pieces to your heart's content, and it is more than a work suit. Whether you travel by train or by air, or motor to your destination, or dash about town to keep appointments, this smart many-piece suit can be manipulated to tune perfectly to the occasion.

If it's a bright accent you are seeking for your slacks, you'll find plenty of it in the new blouses that are made of the splashiest big colorful prints imaginable. When a yen for the utterly feminine besets you, wear a dainty white frilly and sheer blouse. Make sure that it is styled with a foamy white jabot, for they are wonderfully smart.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The Aerial Camera for use on Scout and Observation and Reconnaissance planes is essential to both the Army and Navy air forces in planning battle formations and in obtaining information on enemy fortifications and movements. They look something like a cannon, and cost about $3,400 apiece.

The aerial cameraman can plot wide territories in bold relief so that Army or Navy Intelligence can make accurate measurements of enemy territory. We need many of these cameras so necessary to the air arms of the Army and Navy. You can help buy them with your purchases of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day, and help your country go over its War Bond Quota.

Fads and Fancies

Very intriguing is a new sweater that is sold with two accurately color-matched grosgrain ribbon bows—a bow for the hair and a bow to wear on the sweater.

"Match hat and gloves," is fashion's latest decree. A noted milliner carries out the idea in a stunning high-crowned hat of bright plaid taffeta with gloves that flaunt wide ruffled flares of identical taffeta.

New in the way of a lapel ornament is a charming patented "nose-gay" spray pin. Incorporated in its design is a leak-proof perfume vial. The flower motif of enamel in realistic colors is jeweled with colorful stones.

Among new victory fashions is a long-torso dolman-sleeved shirt blouse of white wool jersey with navy embroidery. The novelty feature of this "signatory" blouse, for which the makers hold the original design patent, is the embroidery, which spells out the names of the 26 countries joining the pact to defeat the Axis. As a patriotic gesture, wear it with a bright red gabardine skirt.

Grapes $6 and Salmon $3 Per Pound in London

LONDON.—Exorbitant prices are being charged for what before the war were considered only moderate luxuries. Today grapes were selling for 30 shillings (about $6) a pound, while fresh salmon sold for 15 to 21 shillings (about $3 to $4.20) a pound.

Home grown pears were selling three shillings six pence to four shillings (about 72 to 80 cents) a pound. Mushrooms bring eight shillings (about $1.60). Most prices quoted are about 1,000 per cent above the prewar figures.

Lord Woolton, food minister, today announced that beginning Monday, the maximum retail prices for raisins will be seven pence (about 15 cents); for raisins, sultanas, currants, dried apples, prunes and figs 9 pence (about 18 cents) a pound, and dried apricots, peaches, and pears 1 shilling (about 20 cents).

Teacher Invents Device To Compute Averages

MANSFIELD, OHIO.—Dan B. Haber, a junior high school mathematics teacher here, invented a mechanical grade averager that is a great time-saver.

"A Russian adding abacus—centuries old in principle—that I saw in a hotel in Odessa in 1938 gave me the germ of an idea for the averaging machine," Haber said.

The machine is so simple that a fourth grade child can operate it, but development of the calculator took months of mathematical gymnastics and planning.

It is operated by means of a "puncher" placed in a slot opposite the grade to be averaged. The machine computes averages for from 10 to 24 degrees with the result appearing in a small traveling "window."

British Now Can Send Children Expense Cash

"Youth Caravan" Coming To Methodist Church

Coming to Hamlin June 20-26 is a group of trained young people with an adult Counselor bringing "Fun, fellowship, worship and work" for the week for the Methodist young people and others who may wish to acquire training for efficient church work.

The young people of this community realize that upon their shoulders rest the responsibility of the future church and Christian world order. This is their opportunity to train themselves for a life of "full" service; of understanding which brings the joy of the privilege of Christian living to its fullness.

Other older young people are training for war on military fronts, training under the direction of competent leaders. Here are leaders in the work of a religious nature which are just as competent as those training the boys to fly planes and drive tanks and fire anti-aircraft guns. They have attended "officers training school" for this type of work and are putting their commission to work in voluntary service entirely without pay.

This training is for any young person in Hamlin, of any religion, between the ages of 12 and 23. Adults who wish to work with young people will also find a training and forums for their enlightenment on how to work out the problems with youth. Young people, leaders of your church group, contact your pastors if you want to take this training.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones Palmer of Levelland came down for the past week end to visit Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Green, parents of Mrs. Palmer. Jones says things on the Plains are looking good but needed rain when he left.

Jack Wharton came in last week from San Diego where he is employed in an air plant to visit home folks, especially to see his first daughter, Madeline Kay, who was born May 27th. The mother was Grace Johnson before her marriage.

LESTER BOONE

Pledging himself to "an all-out war effort," Lester Boone, Fort Worth Representative, has formally announced his candidacy for the Texas Railroad Commission, and called attention to the fact that it was one of Texas' most vital factors in the war effort. He further pledged in his announcement to attend all commission meetings.

Boone, who is now serving in the Texas Legislature from Fort Worth, sponsored the Omnibus Tax Bill which made possible the payment of old age pensions, teachers retirement pay, aid to the blind, and aid to crippled and dependent children. As a member of the House Military Affairs Committee, he aided in the passage of the Texas Defense Guard Bill, which became a law, thereby giving Texas greater security in the present crisis.

"I pledge an administration of harmony and will cooperate with other members of the commission," Boone said in his announcement. "I pledge myself to an all-out war effort in this vital department of State Government and will attend all commission meetings."

Rev. Dan Jones, pastor of the Nazarene church, was called to the home of his father at Bee House, Texas, near Gatesville, last Saturday by his death. He was 88 years of age and had been slowly failing for some time. Rev. and Mrs. Jones and children had been with him all the week and had returned to Hamlin only on Friday. Funeral services were held there on Monday.

C. Alexander was called to the home of his father, C. W. Alexander at Hollis, Okla., early Monday morning, by his sudden death at 7 o'clock.

Congressman Sam Rayburn of Texas seems to think that the people are too quick to blame Congress for this and that, and he says that such methods lead to dictatorship. We are inclined to believe that the citizens of this nation have the right to lambast members of Congress who have proved by their selfish motives that they sometimes think more of their own individual future than they do of the future of citizens that they are supposed to represent.

We agree that there are able men in Congress who by faithful service have proved their faith in democracy, but we do say that Congress has made more blunders in the past two years than a bunch of little boys. In the first place, they kept shipping scrap iron to Japan to be shot back at us in the form of bullets. They didn't stay with the President when he wanted to fortify our Pacific outposts. They voted pensions for themselves while people when hungry and now some of the members want all of the gasoline that they can use even though their constituents back home have to be rationed. Now Mr. Rayburn we are for you, but don't you think that the people have had plenty to kick about, and as far as the people going for dictators, that's out.

Now about all this scrap iron. We have been asked to gather it up and we did. No one has called for it. We, the people, have never failed to respond when called on for anything that would hurry up the war effort. In fact, the citizens will do everything, and are doing all within their power, to help win this war, but we want leadership and not so much wrangling and confusion in Congress. Mr. Rayburn, hold your horses and stay in the straight and narrow path, and do your best to keep your fellow members on the right track and you won't have to worry about the folks back home. But we won't guarantee that you won't have some new faces on Capitol Hill next year as the people are going to march to the polls in July with itchy fingers and forked pencils.

YOUR CAR How to Get the MOST out of It

STRETCHING YOUR TIRE MILEAGE

The vital importance of conserving rubber can't be overemphasized. Nor can it be stressed too often that you, as a car owner, can help save rubber by careful use of your tires.

Remember, you pay in good rubber for jack-rabbit starting, speeding, curb scraping and slam-bang driving.

Learn your correct tire pressures by heart and check your tires at least weekly. Under-inflated tires build up excessive internal heat and create extra road friction. This wears out the tires and wastes gas. Mild over-inflation (2 or 3 pounds) is not harmful, but tires that are too hard bruise more easily, wear at the center and are not as skid-proof. Don't forget that pressures may vary as much as 5 pounds as a result of temperature changes, also that tires lose air by seepage even when there are no leaks.

Never drive without valve caps. They keep out dirt and help to keep in air.

Keep your tires away from oil and out of the sun as much as possible.

Keep your tires. Thefts are on the increase. Don't leave your car out at night. Jot down the tire serial numbers.

Note: This is the fifth in a series of articles based on the book, Automobile User's Guide, published by the Customer Research staff of General Motors. Next article: More About Tires.
